

HakTrap Device network configuration with All-in-One cable modem (Cox, Verizon, Spectrum)

In the above scenario, your wireless device would not be protected, however any hardwired device i.e. server, PC, phones, TV would have protection.

Alternatively, if you have a second WIFI AP, google mesh, Apple Airport etc... then your device would be protect. This is highlighted in the green section. And you wifi on the all in one could be disabled or used as a guest network with lower security.
